

process validation

We help our customers achieve excellent process validation results

Sterile, Non–Sterile, Liquid, Powder, Tablet, Suspension, BPC, API

Process Validation: Most Critical

Process Validation is the most critical part of the entire validation program. Yet, most validation contractors do not offer competent process validation services. Not so at Gavin Pharmaceutical Services. Led by a president with years of industry experience across the spectrum of pharmaceutical dosage forms, this unusual validation contractor brings excellence in process validation services to your door.

Do You Know How to Do It?

After 20 years of regulatory enforcement in the process validation arena, many companies and professionals have become proficient in process validation. Simply put, they know what they are doing. That does not mean that you enjoy the same luxury! If you find yourself short on process validation knowhow, our teaching style of consulting can be a great complement to your staff. The great benefit to you is that we teach you as we go. We use formal and informal training techniques, stressing principles and good practice. When the job is done, your skills have dramatically improved!

At a Glance

Service: Process Validation
Compliance: 21CFR Part 211
Capability: Full Capability
Best at: High Quality Validation
Project Scope: Full or Partial
Contact: Blair Conley
Sales: 1-800-700-5147

Process Validation is Complex

Process Validation is as complex as the process. In the world of pharmaceutical manufacturing, that can mean highly complex. Biotechnology adds another dimension of difficulty, often due to the uncharted waters of therapeutic innovation. We will evaluate the stage of process development and determine the simplest approach for your consideration. We are experienced in experimental design for process optimization, an extensive approach which results in extremely rugged process results. We will develop process capability studies, determine the critical parameters for the process, and either execute or assist you in execution of the appropriate testing.

Analytical Support

We will advise you regarding the required analytical technology and the assay validation which must be in place before the study begins. If your laboratory is unable to provide the necessary support, we have relationships with contract laboratories which can do that for you. We can provide full support in managing that relationship, as well. Once the study begins, we will oversee sample collection, evaluate results, and put it all together. We can provide sophisticated statistical analysis if required, as well.

Get a Free Project Proposal

Find out how our scientists and engineers can bring the extra security of process validation done well into your professional life. We will be glad to visit your site at no charge, evaluate your process validation needs, and recommend a project approach that is right for you. Our proposal includes an estimate of service costs. Compare the competition, and we think your choice will be clear. Call Gavin!

Got a Tough Project?

Tough projects are made for GPS. Even if no one has ever done it before, we will tackle it for you. We will apply our process experience with tenacity that will solve your complex process problems. We are very confident in our process validation talent. Let us show you why.

Act Today

For effective process validation, call today. Put our experience to work for you!

1-800-700-5147